POLICY ANALYSIS
IN TAIWAN
International Library of Policy Analysis

Series editors: Iris Geva-May and Michael Howlett, Simon Fraser University, Canada

This major new series brings together for the first time a detailed examination of the theory and practice of policy analysis systems at different levels of government and by non-governmental actors in a specific country. It therefore provides a key addition to research and teaching in comparative policy analysis and policy studies more generally.

Each volume includes a history of the country’s policy analysis which offers a broad comparative overview with other countries as well as the country in question. In doing so, the books in the series provide the data and empirical case studies essential for instruction and for further research in the area. They also include expert analysis of different approaches to policy analysis and an assessment of their evolution and operation.

Early volumes in the series will cover the following countries:

Brazil • China • France • Germany • India • Israel • Netherlands • New Zealand • Norway • Russia • South Africa • Taiwan • UK • USA

and will build into an essential library of key reference works. The series will be of interest to academics and students in public policy, public administration and management, comparative politics and government, public organisations and individual policy areas. It will also interest people working in the countries in question and internationally.

In association with the ICPA-Forum and Journal of Comparative Policy Analysis. See more at http://goo.gl/raJUX
POLICY ANALYSIS IN TAIWAN

Edited by Yu-Ying Kuo

International Library of Policy Analysis, Vol 5
Contents

List of tables and figures vii
Acknowledgements ix
Notes on contributors x

One  Policy analysis in a time of turbulence 1
Chilik Yu and Yu-Ying Kuo

Two  Exploring policy advisory committees in the central government 23
Wen-Jiun Wang and Chang-Tay Chiou

Three Analysis of innovative local government policies in Taiwan 39
Chung-pin Lee

Four Policy analysis in the legislative body: the legislative process of the Soil and Groundwater Pollution Remediation Act in Taiwan 53
Tsuey-Ping Lee

Five Policy analysis in the local councils 67
Kai-Hung Fang

Six Gendering policy analysis? The problems and pitfalls of participatory ‘gender impact assessment’ 81
Yen-Wen Peng

Seven The power of influencing policies, or getting their share and more: interest groups in Taiwan 95
Wilbur Bing-Yan Lu

Eight Think tanks in Taiwan 111
Yi-jung Wu

Nine The development of public engagement in Taiwan 123
Mei Jen Hung

Ten Social media and policy evolution in Taiwan 137
Ling-Chun Hung

Eleven Policy analysis by non-governmental organisations in Taiwan 151
Wen-Jong Juang

Twelve Policy network of universal healthcare reform in Taiwan 171
Guang-Xu Wang

Thirteen Public policy and administration research 187
Nai-Ling Kuo and Jay N. Shih
Policy analysis in Taiwan

Fourteen Too critical to ignore? A tri-dimensional relationship examination of policy analysis internship in Taiwan
Chun-Ming Chen

Fifteen Policy analysis in Taiwan in an international perspective
Jun Yi Hsieh

Sixteen Policy analysis education in Taiwan: a comparative perspective
Yu-Ying Kuo

Index
List of tables and figures

Tables

2.1 List of identified advisory committees 30
2.2 Frequency distribution of number of advisory committee members 31
2.3 Frequency distribution of types of advisory committee members 31
2.4 Frequency distribution of advisory committees that address the issue of balance of members 31
2.5 Frequency distribution of advisory committees that address the issue of conflict of interest 31
2.6 Recruitment method of advisory committees 31
2.7 Frequency distribution of period of service 32
2.8 Frequency distribution of meetings 32
2.9 Frequency distribution of types of remuneration for committee members 32
9.1 Purposes and contribution of participation in stages of policy development 125
9.2 The contribution of public participation to policy analysis in the Lo-Sheng Case 131
10.1 Statistics of three forums in National Policy Think Tank Online 144
10.2 Statistics of two forums in ‘Everybody Participates on Public Policy Discussions’ 144
10.3 A summary of the assessment of the National Think Tank Online 145
12.1 Interpretation of network plots 176
12.2 Centrality measures for individuals within networks – highest ranked 177
13.1 Where the highest-level degree was obtained (%) 189
13.2 Fields of the highest-level degrees obtained (%) 189
13.3 Research output of university faculty 193
13.4 Grants for publication in TSSCI and SSCI journals (Taiwan dollars – $NT) 198
13.5 Political science journals in TSSCI to 2012 198
13.6 Selected articles by journal 199
13.7 Number of publications by journal and year 200
13.8 Co-authorship 202
13.9 Research themes 204
15.1 Internationally oriented department or programme of public administration, public policy or public affairs 225
16.1 Development of Taiwan’s public administration and policy education 232
16.2 Taiwan master’s programmes in public policy and policy analysis 235
16.3 PhD programmes in public policy 238
16.4 Public policy in East Asian, North American and European universities 241
Figures

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Figure</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1.1</td>
<td>Taiwan Economic Growth Rate, 1952–2012</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.2</td>
<td>Taiwan’s Unemployment Rate, 1953–2013</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.3</td>
<td>Taiwan GDP per capita, 1951–2012</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.4</td>
<td>Taiwan debt (% of GDP), 1951–2013</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.5</td>
<td>Taiwan’s policy analysis environment and model</td>
<td>17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.6</td>
<td>Evolution of Taiwan’s policy analysis in a turbulent context</td>
<td>18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.1</td>
<td>Taipei City’s public, free wireless internet access policy adoption process</td>
<td>46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.2</td>
<td>Taipei City’s Industrial and Commercial Carbon Emission Reduction Ordinance</td>
<td>47</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.3</td>
<td>New Taipei City’s Public Childcare Policy adoption process</td>
<td>48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.1</td>
<td>Taipei City Council’s organisational chart</td>
<td>70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2</td>
<td>Pingtung County Council’s organisational chart</td>
<td>71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.1</td>
<td>Dynamic Relationship of Interest Groups’ Power to Influence Policy and Legislation</td>
<td>107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.1</td>
<td>Opportunities and challenges governments face in the social media era</td>
<td>142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.2</td>
<td>The goals of the National Policy Think Tank Online</td>
<td>143</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12.1</td>
<td>Network plot information transmission relationship</td>
<td>178</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>(network centralisation = 51.163%)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12.2</td>
<td>Network plot resource exchange relationship</td>
<td>180</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>(network centralisation = 16.662%)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13.1</td>
<td>Number of published articles 1990–2012</td>
<td>201</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13.2</td>
<td>The progression of co-authorship 1990–2012</td>
<td>203</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13.3</td>
<td>Number of published articles in the most popular six themes, by year</td>
<td>205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.1</td>
<td>Relationships among college internship coordinators, students and supervisors</td>
<td>208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>15.1</td>
<td>Different types of public policy related to Taiwan from 1992 to 2012</td>
<td>227</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>16.1</td>
<td>Location of TASPAA members</td>
<td>234</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Acknowledgements

The editor would like to thank Dr Iris Geva-May and Dr Michael Howlett for supporting her in editing the book as part of the International Library of Policy Analysis series. The editor gratefully acknowledges the assistance from Policy Press at the University of Bristol and the coordination from Miss Yu-Tou Hsieh, Ph.D. candidate at Shih Hsin University. Most importantly, sincere thanks go to responsible contributors and reviewers for making the publication possible.
Notes on contributors

Chun-Ming Chen is associate professor in the Department of Public Policy and Management and Director of International Master Program of Integrity & Governance of Shih Hsin University, Taiwan. He is one of the pioneers in the development of policy analysis internship program in the field of public administration in Taiwan. His research interests include bureaucracy and democracy, civil-military relations, and public sector integrity and governance.

Chang-Tay Chiou is professor in the Department of Social and Policy Sciences and research fellow at the Innovation Center for Big Data and Digital Convergence at Yuan Ze University, Taiwan. His specialisations include public policy analysis, cultural-creative industries, and environmental policy.

Kai-Hung Fang is assistant professor at the Department of Public Policy and Management, Shih Hsin University. His major research interests include local government, local public finance, and public policy. He has taught courses in public administration, local government, public finance and budgeting, and qualitative methods.

Jung Yi Hsieh is associate professor, Department of Public Affairs, University of Taipei, Republic of China (Taiwan). His research interest focuses on performance management, local governance, public human resource management, policy analysis, and public health policy. His articles have appeared in many journals, including Public Administration Review, Administration and Society, Journal of Management & Organization, Public Administration Quarterly, Innovation: Management, Policy & Practice and Journal of Urban Affairs.

Ling-Chun Hung is associate professor at Department of Public Policy and Management, Shih-Hsin University. Her research interests include political economy, election and market, and public policy analysis.

Mei-Jen Hung is assistant professor at the Department of Political Science, National Taiwan University. She received her Ph.D. degree from the American University at Washington, D.C. Her research interests include bureaucracy, public participation, e-government, government-business relation.

Wen-Jong Juang is currently associate professor and chair in the Department of Public Policy and Management at the Shih Hsin University in Taipei, Taiwan. Dr. Juang is the editor of Competitiveness Review (Taiwan) and a research fellow of the Taiwan e-Governance Research Center supported by the National Development Council of the Executive Yuan, Taiwan. He is also a board member of Chinese Association of National Competitiveness in Taiwan. Dr. Juang’s research interests are in the areas of public policy analysis, public opinion research, performance management, nonprofit organisation study, integrity governance, and e-governance. He has published widely in these areas in Chinese and English academic journals.
Nai-Ling Kuo is assistant professor in the Graduate Institute of Public Affairs and Department of Political Science at National Taiwan University, Taipei, Taiwan. Her research interests include public budgeting and finance, accountability, and good governance.

Chung-pin Lee is currently associate professor in the Department of Public Administration at Tamkang University and also a research fellow of the Taiwan E-Governance Research Center. His research interests are government innovation, policy diffusion and e-governance.

Tsuey-Ping Lee is professor in the Department of Political Science at National Chung-Cheng University in Taiwan. Her recent areas of research focus on environmental governance, environmental policy analysis, brownfield public participation, brownfield redevelopment, and environmental justice.

Wilbur Bing-Yan Lu is associate professor of the Public Administration Department at National Dong Hwa University, Taiwan. His research interests are public policy, maritime policy, and policy marketing as well as non-profit marketing. In addition to books in the field of policy marketing (2007) and non-profit marketing (2012), his latest published book, based on an empirical study of Advocacy Coalition Framework (ACF), is on public policy change (2014).

Yen-Wen Peng is associate professor in Public Affairs Management at National Sun Yat-sen University, Kaohsiung. Her research interests include gender and politics, gender and technology, gender and management, participatory democracy, and interpretative policy analysis.

Jay N. Shih is distinguished professor in the Department of Public Administration at National Chengchi University, Taipei, Taiwan. His research interests include human resources and performance management in the public sector, policy analysis, and comparative administration.

Guan-Xu Wang is associate professor of public management and policy in the Department of Public Administration and Management at the National University of Tainan, Taiwan. Dr. Wang’s current research interests include social network analysis, health care and social policy, and community care for the elder under welfare mix. Dr. Wang’s recent research focuses on the use and integration of social network analysis methodology into public management and policy issues.
Wen-Jiun Wang is assistant professor in the Department of Public Administration and Policy at National Taipei University, Taiwan. Her professional interests include policy analysis, disaster management policy, organisational theory, and public management.

Yi-Jung Wu is assistant professor in the Department of Public Policy and Management at Shih Hsin University, Taiwan. Her research interests include policy information integration, policy planning, and policy marketing in the fields of social welfare and education, particularly for the applications to the disadvantaged students in the higher education system.

Chilik Yu is professor in the Department of Public Policy and Management at Shih Hsin University in Taiwan. His major research interests include public policy, public administration, public management, integrity and governance.