Contents

List of tables, figures, images and boxes v
Notes on contributors vii
Acknowledgement xi

one Social Investment in welfare: a sub-national perspective 1
  Susan Baines, Judit Csoba, Flórián Sipos and Andrea Bassi

Part A: Children and families: early intervention in people’s life courses 23
Andrea Bassi and Susan Baines

two Investing in the future! Three case studies of social innovation in the Emilia-Romagna Early Childhood Education and Care services system 27
Andrea Bassi

three Troubled Families in Greater Manchester 43
Jessica Ozan, Chris O’Leary, Susan Baines and Gavin Bailey

four Innovative voluntary and public sector partnership for the reception and integration of unaccompanied asylum-seeking children in Gothenburg, Sweden 59
Inga Narbutaitė Aflaki

Part B: From a caring state to an investing state: labour market activation 79
Judit Csoba and Susan Baines

five The Youth Guarantee and One-Stop Guidance Centres as a social innovation and a policy implementation tool in Finland 83
Kaisa Sorsa

six Acquiring work experience for vocational education graduates in Greece 97
Alexandra Koronaiou, George Alexias, Alexandros Sakellariou and George Vayias
Implementing innovative Social Investment

seven Network for the labour market integration of migrants and refugees in Münster, Germany (MAMBA) Nikola Borosch, Danielle Gluns and Annette Zimmer

eight Labour market activation and empowerment of the homeless in Poland
Aldona Wiktorska-Święcka and Dorota Moron

Part C: Social solidarity and Social Investment
Flórián Sipos

nine The creation of a socially diverse neighbourhood in Utrecht, the Netherlands Alfons Fermin, Sandra Geelhoed and Rob Gründemann ten Revitalising the self-sufficient household economy: the Social Land Programme in Hungary Judit Csoba and Flórián Sipos

eleven Social Investment and the causes of energy poverty: are cooperatives a solution?
Michael Willoughby, José Millet-Roig
José Pedro García-Sabater and Aida Saez-Mas

twelve Social Investment in theory and praxis: a ‘quiet revolution’ in innovative local services?
Andrea Bassi, Susan Baines, Judit Csoba and Flórián Sipos

Index
List of tables, figures, images and boxes

Tables

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Table</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1.1</td>
<td>Three welfare paradigms</td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.2</td>
<td>Comparison of the distinctive features of the substantive and the formal economy</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.3</td>
<td>Innovative and investment characteristics of case studies</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B.1</td>
<td>Elements and specificities of the case studies in Chapters Five to Eight</td>
<td>80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C.1</td>
<td>Examples of four types of solidarity</td>
<td>144</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9.1</td>
<td>Green Sticht timeline</td>
<td>151</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.1</td>
<td>The main activities of the SLP</td>
<td>170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11.1</td>
<td>Distribution of the budget of the CEA for social initiatives</td>
<td>184</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Figures

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Figure</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2.1</td>
<td>Social Innovation Compass, representing the complex process of social innovation and its broad impact in the social system</td>
<td>35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.2</td>
<td>Networks of actors involved in the Filonido nursery centre</td>
<td>36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9.1</td>
<td>The organisational structure of the Green Sticht</td>
<td>155</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11.1</td>
<td>Comparative evolution of net price of electricity (euros/kWh) in European Union countries</td>
<td>179</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11.2</td>
<td>Theory of Change for the Spanish electric sector based on a cooperative model</td>
<td>189</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Images

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Image</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2.1</td>
<td>Illustration of the 'Children and Parents Centre' from the point of view of a front line-worker</td>
<td>32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9.1</td>
<td>Plan of the Green Sticht</td>
<td>153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11.1</td>
<td>The Alginet Electric Cooperative has been in existence since 1930</td>
<td>181</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Boxes

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Box</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2.1</td>
<td>Parents get engaged with the day-to-day work of ECEC centres</td>
<td>40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.1</td>
<td>Changing dynamics between families and public services</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.1</td>
<td>Partnership impact in the words of interviewees</td>
<td>74</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
5.1 Young people’s stories about the Turku OSGC
7.1 Achieving new language skills and financial independence
8.1 ‘Assistance from A to Z’ from the perspective of end users
9.1 Experiences of Green Sticht residents
10.1 Growing produce
11.1 The president of the cooperative negotiates with a customer
Notes on contributors

Dr Inga Narbutaité Aflaki is a Senior Lecturer in Political Science at Karlstad University, Sweden. The main focus of her research is policy processes and policy change, in particular, on a sub-national level. Recent research includes regional/local innovation support policies that evolve from cooperation between industrial clusters, universities and other regional actors.

Dr George Alexias is a Professor at Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences, Greece, in the Department of Psychology. He teaches Sociology of Health and Illness, Sociology of the Body, and Social Science Research Methods, as well as courses at the Hellenic Open University. His research interests include sociology, sociology of health and illness, sociology of the body, and sociology of genetics, with numerous journal articles, studies and books published. He has participated in many research projects, national and EU-funded, holding both research and team-leading positions.

Dr Gavin Bailey is a Research Associate with the Policy Evaluation & Research Unit at Manchester Metropolitan University, UK. His research has covered a wide range of social problems, including homelessness, youth disengagement, problematic drug use, domestic violence and hate crime.

Susan Baines is Professor of Social Enterprise in the Policy Evaluation & Research Unit at Manchester Metropolitan University, UK. She has published extensively on social enterprise, social innovation and the reform of public services, and has led many research and knowledge-exchange projects on these topics.

Andrea Bassi is Associate Professor of Sociology in the Department of Political and Social Sciences at Bologna University, Italy. His research interests include studies on non-profit organisations in the field of social and health services, systems of measurement of organisational performance, and the social impact of non-profit organisations. He is the author of more than 50 articles on these themes in international and Italian journals, as well as of five books.

Nikola Borosch, MA undertook research for the InnoSI project on labour market integration for migrants and asylum seekers in the city.
Implementing innovative Social Investment of Münster, Germany. His main research interests lie in the fields of comparative policy analysis and of labour market policy.

Dr Judit Csoba is the Head of the Department of Sociology and Social Policy and Vice Dean for Finance and Grants in the Faculty of Humanities, University of Debrecen, Hungary. Her research fields cover social policy, employment policy, the transformation of welfare systems into workfare ones, the social economy and active labour market programmes.

Alfons Fermin is an independent researcher with expertise in social and urban issues. He works on the nexus between policy, practice and research at the local, national and European levels.

José Pedro García-Sabater is a Full Professor of Operations Management and Industrial Engineering in the Department of Management at the Universitat Politècnica de València, Spain. He is an expert on the mathematical modelling of production, planning and scheduling processes.

Dr Sandra Geelhoed is an Associate Professor at the Research Centre for Social Innovation, University of Applied Sciences Utrecht, the Netherlands. Before that, she worked for more than 20 years on issues dealing with imagined communities and community development as a researcher and teacher at the Ecole des Hautes en Sciences Sociales in Paris.

Danielle Gluns MA is currently researching models of cooperation between local governments and social organisations, under the direction of Professor Dr Annette Zimmer, University of Münster, Germany.

Dr Rob Gründemann has worked since 2007 as a Professor in the Research Centre for Social Innovation, University of Applied Sciences Utrecht, the Netherlands. He has been involved in more than 20 projects at the European level, mainly relating to health in the workplace.

Alexandra Koronaiou is a Professor at Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences, Greece, in the Department of Psychology. She teaches Sociology of Work and Leisure, and Sociology of Media, as well as courses in postgraduate programmes, also at the Hellenic Open University. Her research interests include sociology of work and free time, education, youth and gender issues, political culture and participation, with numerous journal articles, studies and book published. She has long and extensive experience of national and international project management and participation, and she is a member of scientific national and international committees and associations.

José Millet-Roig holds the Chair of Managerial Culture at the Universitat Politècnica de València, Spain. Despite having an academic background and many publications on biomedical signalling, he has developed his career in business development and in creating and enhancing links between local industry and the university. He is editor of Service Business: An International Journal.

Dr Dorota Moroń is at the University of Wroclaw, Poland. She researches and publishes on social innovation, non-governmental organisations (NGOs) and the legal basis for NGO activities and their implementation in practice.

Dr Chris O’Leary is a specialist in public policy. He is a senior lecturer in the Policy Evaluation & Research Unit (PERU) at Manchester Metropolitan University, UK, and manages projects that involve multidisciplinary teams and mixed methods. Much of his work before joining PERU was around modelling need and demand in terms of multiple needs, prevention and the integration of services.

Dr Jessica Ozan is a Research Associate with the Policy Evaluation & Research Unit at Manchester Metropolitan University, UK. Her research interests include evaluation methodology, children and youth, and intercultural approaches.

Aida Saez-Mas is an industrial engineer by the Universitat Politècnica de València, Spain. Her postgraduate research interests include the electrical industry in Spain and the effects of energy poverty. Currently she is finishing her PhD thesis related to internal logistics in manufacturing.

Alexandros Sakellariou holds a PhD in Sociology; he is a post-doctoral researcher at Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences and teaches Sociology at the Hellenic Open University. His scientific interests include sociology of religion, politics and religion, youth activism and civic participation, right-wing extremism, radicalisation and qualitative research methods. He has long experience as a researcher in various national and EU-funded research projects and surveys, and he is a contributor co-authoring reports on religious and political issues in Greece.
Flórián Sipos is an Assistant Lecturer at the University of Debrecen, Hungary. He has broad experience in executing and coordinating international research and social development projects. His research activities cover social history, civic engagement and community work.

Dr Kaisa Sorsa is a Principal Lecturer at Turku University of Applied Sciences, Adjunct Professor of Regulatory Studies in the University of Turku and Adjunct Professor of Contract and Marketing Law at the University of Eastern Finland. She has conducted regulatory research in the field of economic changes from both micro- and macro-viewpoints, as well as in the field of regulatory innovations and responsible business.

George Vayias holds a degree in Sociology and he is a doctoral student at Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences, Greece, in the Department of Psychology. He has participated in various research projects, national and EU-funded, holding both research and administrative positions. His research interests mainly include sociology and psychology of youth communities and politics, sociology and psychology of leadership, sociology and psychology of cyberspace, organisational theory, and social media culture.

Aldona Wiktorska-Święcka, Professor of the University of Wrocław, Poland, PhD, D.S. MBA (Dr habil) is chair of the section of European Integration and Regional Development at the Department of European Studies, Faculty of Social Science, University of Wrocław, Poland. She has published extensively on urban governance and social innovation. Her research activities cover public governance and public management, political culture, innovations in management and governance.

Dr Michael Willoughby is a member of the Institute for Information and Communication Technologies, Universitat Politècnica de València, Spain. He specialises in topics related to entrepreneurship and new technologies applied to business organisations.

Annette Zimmer is Professor of Social Policy and Comparative Politics at the University of Münster, Germany. She has served on the Board of the German Political Science Association and on the Advisory Board of the German Volunteer Survey. Her research focuses on the topics of social innovation and civil society–government relations. She is the author of many articles and books on these themes.
Acknowledgement

This book is based on research undertaken for ‘Innovative Social Investment: Strengthening Communities in Europe’ (InnoSI) under the leadership of Professor Chris Fox, Director of the Policy Research & Evaluation Unit, Manchester Metropolitan University. InnoSI received funding from the European Commission Horizon 2020 programme ‘Societal Challenges: European Societies after the Crisis’, Grant Agreement Number 649189.